Course Description

This course is designed to follow immediately after Latin 110. Some class time will be spent on grammar review (we will cover Units 15-18 of Moreland and Fleischer), but the main focus of the course is close reading of select passages from Latin literature. Students will continue to drill grammar learned in Latin 110 and will work to improve their sight-reading skills. Weekly assignments include short prose composition exercises, begun during the Monday lab. This course meets during reading period.

Required Textbooks (Available at the Yale Bookstore)

- F. L. Moreland and R. M. Fleischer, Latin: An Intensive Course (Berkeley, 1977)
- M. Hammond and A. Amory, Aeneas to Augustus, 2nd edition (Cambridge, 1967)
- A. Mahoney, Allen and Greenough's New Latin Grammar (Focus, 2001) - (Recommended)

You will also need a Latin-English dictionary of your own choosing. The following are suitable:

- Chambers-Murray
- Oxford Latin Desk Dictionary (NOT the Pocket Oxford Latin Dictionary)
- Cassell's
- Lewis and Short's Elementary Latin Dictionary

If you intend to take higher-level courses in Latin, you should consider purchasing Lewis and Short's Latin Dictionary, rather than the dictionaries listed above.

Course Requirements

Given the intensive nature of the course, regular attendance and participation is essential. A student may not miss more than one class session before his/her grade is affected. Repeated tardiness will be counted as an absence and four unexcused absences (without prior notification) will result in removal from the course. The grade takes into account attendance and participation, graded assignments, quizzes, midterm exams, and the final. The relative weight of each portion of the grade is as follows.

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---|
| • Attendance and participation | 20% |
| • Quizzes | 10% (lowest quiz grade will be dropped) |
| • Graded assignments | 10% (lowest assign. grade will be dropped) |
| • Mid-term exams (4 x 15%) | 60% (4 th exam is scheduled for finals week) |

Quizzes are 15 minutes long, and will take place in. Regular exams are 1 hour. The final exam is equivalent to a regular exam.
